

February 2009

ConocoPhillips Canada (CPC) is one of the country's largest oil and natural gas exploration and production companies. Headquartered in Calgary, we are a top three producer of natural gas in the country. We have been a proud member of the Grande Cache community since 2005, employing up to 50 contract operators and employees. Our Grande Cache operations include Narraway, Grande Cache, Solomon and Cabin Creek.

We continue to expand and upgrade our facilities and operations. CPC recently increased capacity at our Grand Cache facility last fall and a new booster compressor is being added in the West Narraway field this spring. A new operator camp in West Narraway is also in the plans to handle production in the area.

CPC has a core position of 617,000 net acres in the Canadian foothills, which extends in a 15-to-20-mile-wide band along a 250-mile expanse of the Rocky Mountains from the Central foothills area, northwest of Calgary, Alberta, into northeast British Columbia. The program is focused on two main components: sweet gas production from the outer foothills and deep sour gas production in the inner foothills.

CPC supports communities where our employees live and work. In 2008 CPC contributed over $50,000 to aboriginal and community initiatives in the Grande Cache area.

At CPC, we conduct our business with a focus on safety, the environment and stakeholder relationships. We develop our projects in a way that is intended to support the economic and social benefit to communities while minimizing the environmental impact associated with development.